Mar 2nd: Firoozeh Dumas - Shared Humanity through Humor

Time: 4 pm- 5:30 pm

Firoozeh Dumas was born in Abadan, Iran and, in the 1970s, moved to Southern California with her family. She later attended UC Berkeley where she met and married a Frenchman. Her two memoirs are Funny in Farsi and Laughing without an Accent. Dumas grew up listening to her father, a former Fulbright Scholar, recount the many colorful stories of his life in both Iran and America. In 2001, Dumas decided to write her stories as a gift for her two children. Funny in Farsi was on the San Francisco Chronicle and Los Angeles Times bestseller lists and was a finalist for the PEN/USA award in 2004 and a finalist in 2005 for an Audie Award for best audio book. She was also a finalist for the prestigious Thurber Prize for American Humor, and is the first Middle Eastern woman ever to be considered for this honor. Critics and readers of all ages have loved her stories. Jimmy Carter called Funny in Farsi "a humorous and introspective chronicle of a life filled with love - of family, country and heritage." Dumas' latest memoir, entitled Laughing without an Accent, was published in May 2008. In April 2005, her one-woman show, "Laughing without an Accent" opened in Northern California to sold out audiences and ran at Theatreworks in Mountain View, California in 2006. For the past five years, Dumas has spoken in conferences, schools, churches, Jewish Temples and Islamic centers. Her travels have taken her from the East Coast to the West Coast, from Harvard University to UCLA. Everywhere she has gone, audiences have embraced her message of shared humanity and invited her back for more. Dumas has traveled the country reminding us that our commonalities far outweigh our differences...and doing so with humor. No Admission fee-open to the public. Held at Kirby Student Center Ballroom at University of Minnesota Duluth.

Mar 17th: Antique Appraisal

Time: 12 pm - 3 pm

Identify and value your mystery collectible! Bring your mystery antique or collectible item to the St. Louis County Heritage & Arts Center for a free appraisal on Wednesday, March 17, 2010! The St. Louis County Historical Society has arranged for Dan Sershon of Northland Estate Services, an expert in antique appraisal, to be at your service from noon until 3 pm in the rotunda next to the Playhouse's theater. You may bring up to two items per person for an informal verbal identification and evaluation of each antique. If the piece is too large or fragile to be hand-carried, a clear photograph with a description of any marks and labels will be sufficient. Participants over the years have thoroughly enjoyed the appraiser's comments on what is always an interesting assortment of antiques and collectibles. ARCO coffee is available while you wait. This session is part of an on-going public education program offered by the St. Louis County Historical Society. Sponsorship does not imply endorsement of this or any other estate/appraisal service, and museum staff is prohibited by professional ethics from making financial appraisals.
